Art and Design Policy

Rationale

At St George's Catholic Primary School, we believe that Art and Design stimulates creativity and imagination. It provides visual, tactile and sensory experiences and a special way of understanding and responding to the world and enables children to communicate what they see, feel and think through the use of colour, texture, form, pattern and different materials and processes.

Aims

- To enable children to become visually literate and understand that art is a form of communication.
- To enable children to use a wide range of media to communicate ideas and feelings.
- To nurture and harness creativity and acquire and develop a range of skills and techniques.
- To develop children's capacity for imaginative and original thought and to try out ideas without the fear of failing.
- To enable children through observation to learn about the world around them.
- To help children learn about the role of art, craft and design in their environment and take inspiration from it.

- To enable children to become independent in the planning and reviewing of their work.
- To enable children to develop their full potential confidently and independently.

Implementation of the Policy

At St George's Catholic Primary School art is a hands-on activity that requires the teacher to be directly involved with the children in the lesson; to set the task, to impart knowledge, to lead activities, to monitor and develop the children's progress and to ensure that each child reaches an appropriate standard through the following:

- Using a variety of approaches that are matched to the activity and cater for a range of abilities.
- Having the opportunity to examine natural objects, everyday artefacts and historical artefacts. Developing clear links between art and design and ICT opportunities.
- Encouraging children to work independently, in pairs, small groups and as a whole class when required.
- Encouraging the development of personal and social skills, being fully inclusive and giving equal access for pupils to learning opportunities.,

- Ensuring that any issues of Health and Safety are observed in the planning and the delivery of the art curriculum.

The key concepts in art and design are the following:

- Drawing
- Painting
- Printing
- 3D
- Collage
- Use of IT
- Knowledge

The Early Years Foundation Stage

At St George's Catholic Primary School, we encourage creative work in the nursery and reception class as this is part of the foundation stage. We relate the creative development of the children to these objectives set out in the early learning goals, which underpin the curriculum planning for children aged three to five. The children's learning includes art, music, dance, role-play and imaginative play. The range of experiences that are provided encourages children to make connections between one area of learning and another and so deepens their understanding of a wide-range of concepts.

At St George's Catholic Primary School, we provide a rich environment in which we encourage and value creativity. Children experience a wide range of activities that they respond to, making use of all of their senses. We give them the opportunity to work alongside artists and other adults. The activities that children partake in are both imaginative and enjoyable.

At St George's Catholic Primary School within the foundation stage we run continuous provision, where children have free access to all resources and opportunities, allowing them to develop their knowledge, skills and understanding at their own pace and interest.

Key Stage One

At St George's Catholic Primary School, in Key Stage 1, art and design is about developing children's creativity and imagination through providing art, craft and design activities that relate to children's own identity and experiences, and giving them access to the natural and made objects with which they are familiar.

Key Stage Two

In Key Stage Two, art and design is about developing children's creativity and imagination by building on their knowledge, skills and understanding that they have gained so far in their lives. Children's experiences help them to develop their understanding of the diverse roles and functions of art and design in the locality and out in the wider world.

Adaptive Learning

At St George's Catholic Primary School, we recognise the fact that we have children of a range of abilities in our classes, and so we provide suitable learning opportunities for all children by matching the challenge of the task to the ability of the child. We achieve this through a range of strategies:

- Setting common tasks that are open-ended and children can respond to these tasks in a variety of ways.
- Setting tasks of increasing difficulty where not all children complete all tasks.
- Grouping children by ability and setting different tasks for each group.
- Providing a range of challenges with different resources.

- Using additional adults to support the work of individual children or small groups.

Health and Safety

At St George's Catholic Primary School is responsible for teaching art, craft and design in a healthy and safe environment with reference to appropriate risk assessments for activities likely to incur possible risk. The teaching staff and art leader are responsible for the supervision of activities such as cutting with scissors or a paper-cutter and using glue guns (if needed) safely. All art equipment is subject to maintenance and safety checks and any faulty equipment is to be reported to the art leader.

Role of the Subject Leader

To purchase and organise the appropriate art resources.

- To support colleagues in the teaching of art and design.
- To keep up to date on the use of art in the curriculum and regularly attend training for subject leaders held by the LA and feedback new information and ideas to staff.
- To monitor teaching and learning and the standards of children's work.

- To regularly review and update the Art Policy and contribute to the school's self-evaluation programme.

Assessment

At St George's Catholic Primary School assessment is carried out in accordance with our assessment policy. The class teacher evaluates each child's skills by their use of a sketchbook. All children are encouraged to develop the habit of using these, primarily for developing ideas for their work and for working out ideas, plans and designs; but also, for recording, exploring and storing visual information which can be readily retrieved and used as reference. The class teacher can look back and reflect on the content and judge which they can use to further develop ideas, skills and understanding. It is important to extend children's skills and allow them to practise regularly. At St George's Catholic Primary School displaying children's work well also plays a positive part in the appraisal of the art and design work in the school; this gives it value and reminds the children what has been achieved and enables them to share and talk about their work with others. As a form of real assessment, this gives the class teacher opportunities to focus on the different ways the children may have responded to the theme or starting point. Thus, the public display of art and design (and other curriculum areas) of each year group is much more than just a way of making the school look attractive; it also demonstrates the sequence and development of what has been learnt throughout the two key stages.

Equal Opportunities and Inclusion

At St George's Catholic Primary School our curriculum for art and design will develop enjoyment of and commitment to stimulating the best possible progress and the highest attainment for all our pupils irrespective of social background, culture, race, gender, differences in ability and disabilities. All of our pupils have a secured entitlement to participate in the art and design curriculum and our teaching approaches ensure the avoidance of stereotyping when planning work or organising groups. All the teaching staff agree that when using reference materials, they should reflect social and cultural diversity and provide positive images of race, gender and disability.

Monitoring and Evaluation

At St George's Catholic Primary School, the art subject leader monitors planning and assessments – evaluating medium term plans and taking note of annotations, amendments and suggestions made by class teachers. They ensure that the curriculum has been covered and that there are no gaps. Photographs of completed work and displays are kept digitally by the subject leader as a portfolio, in order to monitor and support the raising of standards in art within the school. The coordinators take responsibility for addressing any needs or concerns that arise as a result of this monitoring.

Disability Equality Impact Assessment

This policy has been written with reference to and in consideration of the school's Disability Equality Scheme. Assessment will include consideration of issues identified by the involvement of disabled children, staff and parents and any information the school holds on disabled children, staff and parents.
