

Year 3-4 week ending 17.2.23

English: After interviewing Hercules this week we have finished writing our myth on Hercules. A great job – with lots of powerful adjectives, conjunctions and similes used.

Tree planting was brilliant yesterday. It was wonderful to be in the outdoors, examining the trees, seeing their roots and then learning how to plant them. We all learned how to carry and use our equipment safely then worked together to successfully plant lots of different plants including holly and dog roses.

Please continue to practice times tables, through rock stars, super movers or your games – it's so important and makes a huge difference to our learning in maths.

Fractions have continued to be very tricky this week!

Year 3 and 4 have worked hard on completing our fractions this week – ordering them, comparing them, writing then as decimals adding and subtracting them. Another busy week well done everyone.

We have completed our history topic on the Ancient Greeks this week. Completing a fact file on the gods and goddesses certainly threw up some interesting and sometimes revolting information.

We have also examined the use of artefacts in history, how they can be found and some possible methods of dating them. We have also begun to understand what they can tell us about life in the past.
